NOTICE AND WARNING

Owing to the prominence and large sale of our series of Teddy Bears Books, several booksellers have been led to believe that the letter of warning issued by Edward Stern & Co., of Philadelphia, against infringements of their copyrights applied to our line. Messrs. Stern & Co. have conceded that our Teddy Bears Books do not infringe their copyrights, and we take this means of notifying the trade to that effect.

Knowing our rights as licensed publishers of the Teddy Bears Books, the pictures and text of which first appeared in "Judge" in cartoon form—every page being copyrighted by Judge Company as published from week to week—we will defend any dealer in the selling of our series of Teddy Bears Books.

Furthermore, we shall sue for damages any publishers who shall hereafter circulate a letter or advertisement warning against Teddy Bears Books in general, unless our series is specifically excepted.

"ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR" 3d PRINTING

A WINGED VICTORY

By

Robert Morss Lovett

of the University of Chicago

"One of the best books of the year, a book surprisingly good from every standpoint. It is the story of a woman, a woman convincingly human, from little girlhood to dignified and ripened motherhood."

—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"A really noble piece of fiction. A tribute to the best possibilities of the American woman. A strong, moving, human story."

—Washington Star.

"So human and believable that it is not difficult to imagine that she has just left your fireside, which would be colder for lack of her."—Chicago Tribune.

"An exceptionally good novel having for its heroine one of the most attractive characters of fiction."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"A fine narrative. Audacious but never shocking; intensely human and appealing; true and sweet and uplifting from cover to cover."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"A charming and lovable heroine."—New York Sun.

NOTES IN SEASON.

DODD, MEAD & Co. are preparing for the holidays a new novel by Owen Wister, entitled "Mother," a story of Wall Street, in which Cupid becomes entangled in the tape of a broker's "ticker," with illustrations by John Rae; also, "The Stooping Lady" and "The Mother of Man," both by Eden Phillpotts, which are now running serially in The Bookman.

W. T. KEENER & Co., 90 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, elsewhere in this issue call attention to a number of their new medical publications, and point out that they have no traveling agents in the field nor wish to circulate their books through subscription agencies. They hope to use the booksellers as their distributing agents, and will send their books on approval to parties of approved credit. One good turn deserves another, and it is to be hoped that the trade will respond accordingly.

HARPER & BROTHERS have just brought out a new book by Justus Miles Forman, entitled "A Stumbling Block." The scenes of the story are set principally in New York City and in a little near-by town, and the characters are distinctively American. They have also just ready the twenty-second volume of The American Nation series, "Reconstruction, Political and Economic," by Dr. William Archibald Dunning; and "Adventures of Uncle Sam's Sailors," by Commander Peary, U. S. N., Molly Elliot Seawell, Kirk Munro and others.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. will publish on August 15 "The Lone Star," by Eugene P. Lyle, Jr., author of "The Missourian," a dramatic story of Texas in the days of Houston, Crockett and Bowie, which is described as "the Iliad of Texas." They will publish on August 25 Leroy's story of the New York Bowery and the lesson that it teaches, entitled "To Him That Hath." They have in preparation a new novel by Miss Ellen Glasgow, entitled "The Beaten Road," in which is depicted the life of a typical Virginian, Richard Ordway; also, "His Own People," by Booth Tarkington, in which he describes the intensely interesting and conflicting experiences of a young man from Indiana who finds himself under the spell and glamor of Paris.

L. C. PAGE & COMPANY announce that Bliss Carman will not be able to finish his new book of prose essays, entitled "The Making of Personality," in time for publication this fall, as originally announced, and that the book will not be issued until next year. Mr. Carman intends that the new volume shall represent only his very best work. The second volume in the Jack Lorimer Series by Winn Standish is now in preparation for early fall publication. "Jack Lorimer's Champions" is the title, and the book fully sustains the interest of the preceding volume, which was one of the best-liked juveniles of last fall. Baseball, water sports and outdoor summer games give plenty of employment to the group of athletic school boys, of which Jack Lorimer is the ringleader.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. will publish on August 24 E. Phillips Oppenheim's new novel, entitled "A Lost Leader," a romance of modern life, the hero of which is a striking character who has elected to stand aloof from the conflict of the political world. They have in preparation "Day—New Year in New York," by Anna Chapin Ray, a continuation of the author's Sidney Series of Canadian-American stories; also, "Theodora," by Miss Katharine Pyle, author of Nancy Rutledge, which met with great favor. They have postponed the publication of the pocket editions of the masterpieces of Alexandre Dumas and Victor Hugo until the fall, when pocket editions of Jane Austen's novels will also be issued. These editions will meet the growing demand for small, light volumes of the standard writers.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

 The prices of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded in this list by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The prices of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. The prices of net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tl. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. 48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Aamrud, Hans. Lisbeth Longfrock; tr. from the Norwegian by Laura E. Poulsson; il. by Othar Holmboe. Bost., Ginn, 1907. c. 9+149 p. pls. S. ("Once upon a time" ser.) cl., 65 c.

The story centers about the life of a little peasant girl on a Norwegian farm. Two lively boys are her companions in herding, and they, with various four-footed animals of strong individuality, contribute comic and dramatic elements to the book. The author is one of the younger literati of Norway.

Acheson, Ernest Francis. Souvenir: trip of congressional party to Panama, March 12-18, 1907; letters written to the Washington, Pa., Observer. [Washington, Pa., Ernest F. Acheson, 1907.] 33 p. 8 pls. obl. 16°. (Not for sale.)

Author was formerly professor of history and political science in Ursinus College, and is now tutor in history in the College of the City of New York. In his preface he says: "I have endeavored here to point out salient features of the Spanish policy governing the slave trade in Cuba. My aim has been to show the causes of the trade in Cuba, its effects on Cuba, Spain, and, so far as they are closely related to the island, on the world; I have then gone into considerable detail in order to show the nature of the trade and the times. . . . So far as I am aware this is the first detailed work, the result of extended research, which has yet been published on the Island of Cuba in this country." Bibliography (21 p.).

Ellis, Florence Howard. Character forming in school. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1907. 9+235 p. il. D. cl., 90 c.

Herbart and other great educators insist that all instruction that does not develop character is useless. This book has been compiled to show how the theory has become practice in a large elementary school (the Warley Road School, Halifax), the ages of the children ranging from three to fourteen. The lessons are printed just as they were prepared and given by the teacher. The weekly "schemes" are copied from the teachers' notebooks, and the compositions are those done by the children during the week they have been studying and practicing the particular "thought" or ideal of conduct which it is the aim of the lessons to develop and accentuate.

Hill Publishing Co., 1907. c. 44 p. obl. Fe. pap., 20 c.

The social or bright side of kissing is illustrated through a number of selections in prose and verse from leading authors. The "dark side" is in the way of good advice from the doctor, a series of "don't's" that should be taken to heart. Two sets of moving pictures, set in motion by the rapid turning of the leaves, add to the attractiveness of this little novelty.

Johnson, Edwin Rossiter. The story of the Constitution of the United States. N. Y., William Ritchie, 1906, [1907.] c. '05. 284 p. D. cl., $1.

The Constitution of the United States has been treated by some as an original document; on the other hand, the attempt has been made to show that it is drawn entirely from the British Constitution. "But neither of these declarations," says Mr. Johnson, "is wholly true." He traces through ten chapters its inception, development and acceptance as we now know it, giving the gist of the arguments for and against its various articles as they came up in convention. An appendix contains: The Declaration of Independence; The articles of confederation and Washington's farewell address.

Ellis, Florence Howard. Character forming in school. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1907. 9+235 p. il. D. cl., 90 c.

Herbart and other great educators insist that all instruction that does not develop character is useless. This book has been compiled to show how the theory has become practice in a large elementary school (the Warley Road School, Halifax), the ages of the children ranging from three to fourteen. The lessons are printed just as they were prepared and given by the teacher. The weekly "schemes" are copied from the teachers' notebooks, and the compositions are those done by the children during the week they have been studying and practicing the particular "thought" or ideal of conduct which it is the aim of the lessons to develop and accentuate.

The social or bright side of kissing is illustrated through a number of selections in prose and verse from leading authors. The "dark side" is in the way of good advice from the doctor, a series of "don't's" that should be taken to heart. Two sets of moving pictures, set in motion by the rapid turning of the leaves, add to the attractiveness of this little novelty.

The career of a young man, born on a farm, who develops greatness as an artist, and while, loving another marries a woman he is indifferent to, lives an unhappy life and dies an early death, is the leading theme. The girl he is hopelessly in love with is also loved by his intimate friend, whose faithfulness is in the end rewarded. Around this young girl there is a mystery; when finally penetrated it is shown she is the illegitimate daughter of Sir Apsley Guise, her mother being an actress whom he had lived with many years previous. The story has its scenes principally in rural England.

Snyder, Carl. American railways as investments: a detailed and comparative analysis of all the leading railways, from the investor's point of view; with an introductory chapter on The methods of estimating railway values. N. Y., Moody Corporation, 1907. c. 762 p. tables, map, O. cl., $3.20 net.

The railroads of America are not owned by millionaires, but by from one to two million investors, large and small, whose average holdings are probably less than $8000 each. The present work is designed for the use of these investors and for the investment banker and broker who serve them. It covers about 190,000 miles of road, or about 90 per cent. of the total in the United States. It presents a detailed and comprehensive analysis of all the larger roads, nearly 100 in number, and estimates the comparative safety of their bonded securities, and the present and prospective value of their shares; in the belief that these present a greater degree of safety with a larger opportunity of profit than any other form of property in which the investor may place his funds. The book is written in untechnical language, for the general investor, is wholly unbiased, and is prefaced by an elaborate introduction on the methods of estimating railway values.

Spargo, J.: Capitalist and laborer: an open letter to Professor Goldwin Smith, D.C.L., in reply to his "Capital and labor"; and, Modern socialism: a lecture delivered at the New York School of Philanthropy. Chic., Charles H. Kerr & Co., 1907. c. 5-122 p. S. (Standard socialist ser.) cl., 50 c. Author of "The bitter cry of the children," "Socialism," etc., in the title paper replies point by point to Prof. Goldwin Smith's attack on socialism in "Labour and capital," published in February last. In the second part Mr. Spargo especially directs attention to the recent criticisms of socialism made by Mr. Mallock.

Stanard, Mary Newton. The story of Bacon's Rebellion. Wash., D. C., Neale Publishing Co., 1907. c. 181 p. D. cl., $1.

Just one hundred years before the Revolution the thrilling drama known as Bacon's Rebellion was enacted in Virginia. The principal scenes were in Jamestown at the "Middle Plantation," and at the Falls of James River. The two leading characters were Sir William Berkeley, the Cavalier governor of Virginia, and Mr. Nathaniel Bacon, Jr., the people's champion. The Rebellion makes an important chapter in our history because it was not only the most picturesque and romantic, but the most determined and long-lived struggle for popular rights in colonial America. Swift, Fletcher Harper. Joseph: a drama for children in one act and three scenes; with an introd. by R: Morse Hodge. N. Y., William Beverley Harison, 1907. c. 5-31 p. D. pap., 25 c.

Some years ago Professor Swift, a graduate student at Teachers' College, Columbia University, dramatized the story of Joseph and had it enacted by the seventh grade boys and girls of the Speyer School. Since then it has been produced as a specimen of dramatic work in connection with a Sunday-school exhibit arranged by the Department of Biblical Literature. It is now published to meet the request of those who wish to use it in Sunday-school work. Preceded by suggestions for scenery. Dr. Hodge, of the Teachers' College, contributes an introduction.

Thorne, Guy, [pseud. for Cyril Arthur E: Ranger Gull.] The serf. N. Y., R. F. Fenno & Co., [1907.] 310 p. D. cl., *$1 net.

A tale of the time of King Stephen of England by the author of "When it was dark." The action of the story takes place in the early mediæval ages, the actual date being about 1136, that period of anarchy and wickedness which has no parallel in English history. It is the story of Hyla the serf, who revolted against the cruel treatment of his master, and with his fellow serfs made a dash for liberty. In Hyla's story the author says: "the reader will trace the growth of that great political idea which has gained Englishmen their freedom."

These sketches were first printed in various journals between the years 1880-1890. Some of the titles are: Cambridge in midsummer (1883); A day in Lexington; Concord memories; Autumn days in Quincy (1883); Brook Farm in 1881; A visit to Plymouth (1882); Salem; Marblehead scenes (1885); Quaint old Barnstable; Nantucket stories; Nantucket's first tea party; An anti-slavery pioneer; The sea fight off Maddequeham; The sea kings of Nantucket; Pittsfield, a home of poets, 1885; Lenox in 1883; The Hoosac tunnel, etc. By the author of "In olde Connecticut," "The true story of Aaron Burr," etc.

"St. Jude's" stands for a west-end Glasgow church, to which John Carmichael, minister of the Free Kirk of Drumtochty had been called. The dozen sketches paint with kindly humor and searching satire members of his flock and occurrences of his ministry. They are among the last work from the pen of the much regretted "Ian Maclaren."

Welles, C: Stuart, M.D. The Ellwoods. N. Y., Morgan M. Renner, [1907.] 5-351 p. D. pap., $1.50.

With a pretty love story the author sets forth his views on marriages—polygamous or monogamic—his argument, briefly stated, being that a monogamic system should be devised, but yet compelling men to support all women by whom they have children, legitimatizing the children, if not the mothers. The object of this system would be to encourage the ideal monogamic marriage, and yet lend to the law instruments to enforce it.

Wentworth, Franklin Harcourt. Forgings of the new: studies in socialism. N. Y., Socialist Literature Co., [1907.] c. 157 p. D. bds., $1.

Author of "Wendell Phillips," "The pride of intellect," etc., here presents some of the social and ethical questions of the days, such as the price of cleanliness, clothes, coalmine ownership, Chicago cattle-yards, modern philanthropy, etc., as they are seen and analyzed by a socialist.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JULY 20, 1907.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter for advertising pages should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

SLOW PAY.

ONE of the evils of the "dog days" is the difficulty encountered by the retail bookseller in making collections, and never has this caused greater embarrassment than this season. In large cities most retailers find themselves more or less inconvenienced because their very richest customers, whose trade seems on the face the most desirable, are the slowest in paying their bills. As these customers are large purchasers, a few accounts of this sort, undoubtedly good, will do much to embarrass any dealer whose margin of working capital may be restricted. Indeed, the reluctance of such customers to separate themselves from their cash within a reasonable period has often caused the ruin of the tradesmen who carry any large number of such accounts on their books. The dealer hesitates to press these customers for their money, because he knows that they are responsible and because he knows that such attempts to collect, however justifiable, are likely to be considered as an affront and to jeopardize future trade, and so the dealers' hands are tied by the very circumstances of the case.

The reasons for this difficulty are various and curious. There are few men so niggardly as to desire to hold over payment for the mere sake of holding their money and saving interest; but to the very rich people the ordinary bookseller's account seems very small, although to the bookseller such an account may be very large. Many such persons also handle their personal accounts only at long intervals, or leave them to a secretary, who has no relation of responsibility to the creditor. And then the bookseller is often at fault in overdoing this line of business, and accumulating large accounts which he must know will be of slow pay.

It is easier, we know, to state all this than to suggest a remedy. Doubtless, in the majority of cases, especially if the dealer has personal relations with his customers, if the actual fact is tactfully brought to the attention of the delinquent, an account of this sort will be paid with promptness. It is simply difficult to get the retailer's point of view before the rich customer. That, however, should be attempted, not by printed circulars or collectors' "persecutions," but by a personal letter, if a personal interview is impracticable, stating exactly the retailer's position and difficulty. In extreme cases it might almost be better to risk the loss of such customers than to jeopardize a business with a close working capital by piling up accounts which involve months or years of delay in payment.

WE cannot say the good word we should like to say for the proposed Bulletin of Best-selling Current Literature, announced elsewhere by the "Publishers' Book Bulletin," 47 Fourth Avenue, (Bible House,) New York, the latest project of Mr. John B. Alden's. The bookseller is offered a 64-page 16mo publication for half a cent a copy; "the publishers pay the rest." The postage is to be one cent a copy, but the bookseller will be charged only half that if he will send the list of his customers for direct mailing; "the publishers pay the rest." Few booksellers would care to give away the list of their customers in this fashion. Publishers are to be charged one cent a line for entries and two cents a line for headings, with rebates dependent upon the receipts from booksellers. Orders from booksellers are invited "through any New York City publisher, who will thus practically guarantee our good faith and the performance of what we agree to do"—an assumption which is hardly to be taken for granted. The specimen pages of the Bulletin have rather a crazy-quilt appearance, and include a good deal of slap-dash comment on books, e.g., "The Dickens. All of him, cheap or excellent editions. We don't like him as well as some—but the only time we ever got lost on the R. R. was with our nose in 'Great Expectations.'" Bargain prices are suggested by marks to which there is a key on the last cover page—a complication which will scarcely attract buyers. Two or three of Mr. Alden's special enterprises are largely advertised in page fulminations at "bargain prices." On the whole, we fear the proposed booksellers' aid will scarcely reach the alluring quarter or half million of the imaginative prospectus.

THE PUBLISHERS' INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION.

As a result of the International Publishers' Congress, of which the fifth was held at Milan in 1906, a Publishers' International Commission to sit between meetings of the Congress has been organized, of which the third session was held at the Hotel des Boulangers at Berne on May 24. The commission consists of representatives and leading publishers from several countries, and there were present at the session MM. Ricordi, president, Brockhaus, Heinemann, Hetzel, Morel, Bailly-Baillière, Belinfante, Bonnier, Huber and Ranschburg, while MM. Bruylant, Fourret, Müller and Nygaard sent their excuses. The first business was the consideration of matters on which votes were made at the Milan Congress. In respect to the copyright relations of mechanical music players there was much interest, and it was decided to consult with Mr. Putnam as to whether an appeal from the commission and from the associations represented in the Congress would be useful. Report was made as to the response from associations represented to the circular of the bureau regarding the international regulation of the right of executing musical works. As to the sale at a discount by societies to their members, Mr. Heinemann stated that the question did not concern the English booktrade, as all discounts except to libraries are prohibited. M. Ranschburg said that sales by societies were of great service in Hungary and did not trouble publishers. M. Brockhaus said that this question was connected with that of the maintenance of the net price; and his proposal that this question should be the subject of a special report at the Madrid Congress was adopted. On most of these points responses from several of the associations to circulars from the central bureau were read, and after discussion of the desirability of sending copies of these responses to the several members, it was decided that the bureau should ask from the several associations an annual résumé of their annual reports, on points concerning the booktrade and publishing, which should be communicated to the other associations.

The question of a technical vocabulary of the booktrade was then taken up, and in view of the undertakings of the Cercle de la Librairie of Paris to prepare such a vocabulary in the French language, the following vote of thanks, adopted by the Executive Committee of the Congress, was adopted also by the commission: "The Executive Committee of the International Congress of Publishers, studying the question whether it might be possible to prepare an international technical dictionary with definitions of the terms and expressions in use in the booktrade, expresses its desire that the Cercle de la Librairie Française should be charged with the preparation of a dictionary in the French language, with definitions of words in use in publishing and the booktrade, which should serve as a foundation for future work by the several associations." MM. Ranschburg and Bonnier wished that the dictionary might include also the Hungarian and Swedish terms, and charged themselves with the necessary preparation. In connection with the thanks of the commission M. Melly was to send to the Cercle copies in German, English, French, and Italian of the work already done in this direction.

A memorandum for the preparation of publishing contracts was discussed, and M. Ricordi announced that M. Melly had already done some work upon this, and that the committee had taken up the question and proposed certain modifications. A copy of the memorandum was to be submitted to each delegate for return after examination and correction, that the Permanent Bureau at Berne might bring the matter before the Executive Committee at its next sitting, in October, 1907. This work will be the subject of a report to the Madrid Congress.

As to professional schools and courses, nothing new came up, but a report from the school at Stockholm was presented. As to American copyright, it was decided to ask Mr. Putnam to make a special report on the new bill to the Madrid Congress, and a statement was submitted from Mr. Heinemann as to the necessary notice in books for American copyright. It was provided that a letter should be sent to the several associations in countries having copyright relations with the United States, pointing out that publications containing material prohibited importation by American laws would be seized in the post and therefore would never reach the Copyright Office at Washington.

The commission then took up the preparations for the Congress which is to meet in Madrid in May, 1908, and M. Bailly-Baillière, the permanent secretary, reported on this subject that he had specially endeavored to interest the Latin-American booktrade which it was hoped would be represented at Madrid. He stated that he had been in communication with the Centro de la Propriété Littéraire at Barcelona, a representative from which would present a report at Madrid relative to the regulations of the Berne Convention and of the subscribing countries, with a view to reforming national legislation into conformity with the Berne Convention. He proposed also a report upon the creation of an international bureau for information as to publishers and booksellers, covering their solvency, legal relations with other branch houses abroad, etc., which project was approved by the commission. Mr. Heinemann stated that such an organization already existed in England and the English colonies. M. Ranschburg proposed a report on the international exchange of books on commission. M. Bailly-Baillière emphasized the necessity of an international understanding as to discounts and on the maintenance of the net price, especially in relation with the Latin-American countries, and it was voted that there should be a report on this subject. A proposal for the foundation of an international repertory of all works entered in the national registries of literary property was discussed, but voted down as impracticable and of questionable practical value. The commission considered it opportune that the question of a legal deposit should be taken up at Madrid with reference to its abolition. The president expressed the thanks of the commission to M. Bailly-Baillière for the numerous and interesting suggestions and for the preparatory work already effected for the sixth Congress, and presented the following schedule of proposed reports at the Madrid Congress:

1. Maintenance of the net price.
2. Memorandum for the preparation of publication contracts.
3. American copyright.
4. The Berne Convention and domestic regulations.
5. International bureaus of information.
6. International exchange of books on commission.
7. Means of facilitating exportation of books.
8. Abolition of the legal deposit and of analogous formalities.
9. Possibly a report presented by a French publisher on the status of work on the technical vocabulary.

M. Ranschburg undertook the work of preparing a report entitled "The Post and the Interests of Publishers." M. Bailly-Baillière with M. Lahure will present at Madrid the report on the lettres missives which he should have presented at Milan. M. Huber presented the project of a report from M. Jullien of Geneva, upon publishers and the competition of government publication, and it was decided that such a report should be made, under the title "What measures should be taken to reserve to the publisher the entire production of a publication and to arrest the present movement for publication by the government, cities, private societies without the concurrence of the publisher?" At the suggestion of M. Brockhaus a report was presented on the means of facilitating exportation and importation of books. M. Brockhaus also asked if there existed practicable means of improvement as to the intermediary booktrade, jobbers, etc., and the secretary undertook to find a reporter on this subject.

It was decided to accept the invitation to hold the Congress of 1910 in Holland. The president presented the project for a catalogue submitted by M. Barbèra, of Florence, to the Permanent Bureau. The Madrid Congress will commence on the 26th of May and terminate on the 30th of May, 1908, and the next session of the International Commission will be held at Madrid on the opening day of the Congress.

THE FINANCIAL STANDING OF THE GERMAN BOOKTRADE ASSOCIATION.

ACCORDING to the annual report of the German Börsenverein, (1906-7,) published for the Easter fair in Leipzig this year, the income of that society for that period amounted to $885,000. Among other items given is the profit drawn from the "Börsenblatt," which amounted to $120,500, the profits from the Booksellers' Directory $11,750, receipts from interests and contributions $78,750, etc. The mortgage on the bookseller's house in Leipzig, that cost $250,000 to build, has been paid up to $12,500.

THE BOOK LOVERS CORPORATION AND TABARD INN LIBRARY.

BOOK LOVERS CORPORATION.

REGARDING the Book Lovers Corporation, concerning the status of which we have had inquiries from time to time, we quote the following statement as of April 30, 1907, signed by William F. Smith, 1611 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Treasurer and Managing Director:

The Book Lovers Corporation, according to this statement, was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey, May 8, 1905, with an authorized capital of $150,000, $115,000 of which is paid in. The officers are H. Campbell Black, president; Seymour Eaton, vice-president, and Wm. F. Smith, secretary and treasurer. The directors are H. Campbell Black, Washington, D. C.; Seymour Eaton, Philadelphia; Wm. F. Smith, Philadelphia; Henry Reeves, of Stacy Reeves & Sons, Philadelphia, and Geo. H. B. Martin, Camden, N. J. Following is a report of the financial condition of the corporation:

(Signed) THE BOOKLOVERS CORPORATION,
by Wm. F. Smith, Treas. and Man. Director"

Mr. Smith further states as that "The Book Lovers Corporation is operating, under a fifteen-year lease, The Tabard Inn Library and The Booklovers Library, the assets of which they control and assume responsibility for all liabilities. Therefore all trade bills are paid with the check of The Book Lovers Corporation, Mr. Smith being secretary, treasurer and managing director as well as general manager of the Tabard Inn Library."

Its Philadelphia Book Store was discontinued about a year ago. The printing and photo-engraving plant ceased when the Booklovers Magazine was sold to D. Appleton & Co.

TABARD INN LIBRARY.

The Tabard Inn Library is leased and operated by the Book Lovers Corporation, 1611 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, and operates a library system throughout the country. The Tabard Inn Library is one of the subsidiary concerns of the former Tabard Inn Corporation, which failed several years ago. While books are bought in the name of the Tabard Inn Library, the Book Lovers Corporation is responsible for the bills. The Tabard Inn

Library has a large shipping room at 1031 Race Street, Philadelphia.

It is claimed that during 1906 their annual sales amounted to $255,799.97 and their business expenses were $202,589.08. It is also stated that they have an insurance on stock and fixtures of $31,700, and deposit with the Market Street National Bank. The actual worth above all liabilities and exemptions is estimated at $556,546.

NEW YORK STATE HISTORIAN.

GOVERNOR HUGHES, on July 15, sent to the Senate for confirmation the nomination of Victor Hugo Paltsits, assistant librarian at Lenox Library, New York City, to succeed Hugh Hastings. The choice is an excellent one, and it is hoped will be confirmed. Mr. Paltsits was born in New York City, July 12, 1867, and received his early education in public and private schools. Later he took the scientific course at Cooper Institute, and received instruction in Latin, Greek, Spanish, French and German in high schools, and Coptic and Egyptian hieroglyphics in Columbia University. He entered the Lenox Library as assistant in the reading room, in 1890, and three years later was made sub-librarian, which title was changed to assistant librarian when the Lenox Library became part of the New York Public Library, Astor, Lenox and Tilden Foundations. Mr. Paltsits is the author and editor of a number of historical and bibliographical works of importance. He edited the "Journal of Captain William Pote, Jr., 1745-1747," "Papers Relating to the Siege of Charleston," 1780, the Rev. John Miller's "New Yorke Considered and Improved," 1695, "Captivity of Captain John Gyles," 1689-1697, etc. He was a member of the editorial staff as bibliographical adviser of the edition of the "Jesuit Relations and Allied Documents," brought out under the editorial direction of Dr. R. G. Thwaites, by the Burrows Brothers Company, (1896-1901,) and contributor to a number of historical and bibliographical magazines and journals. His work is noted for independent thought, exact knowledge and careful research, and in every way he is specially fitted to fill a position requiring absolute adherence to facts, patience in research and the ability to decipher and edit historical documents. He is a member of the American Antiquarian Society, the American Anthropological Society, a fellow of the American Ethnological Society, a member of the American Historical Association, of the Bibliographical Society of America and the Maine Historical Society, and president of the New York Library Club.

Hugh Hastings, who resigned his position as State Historian of New York to become tax commissioner of New York City, having been educated in the public schools and the Albany High School, Hastings learned the printer's trade, and on the Commercial Advertiser, of which his father is the editor, rose from reporter to managing editor. He was Albany correspondent of the New York World and the Times. The office of State Historian was created by the Legislature when Levi P. Morton was governor, and Mr. Hastings has held it ever since. From the huge mass of old papers in Albany Mr. Hastings has compiled many volumes, including the ecclesiastical records of the State, the papers of Governors George Clinton and Daniel D. Tompkins, and colonial military records.

WORKS OF ARCHIMEDES FOUND IN CONSTANTINOPLE.

Y. L. HEIBERG, professor of philosophy in the University of Copenhagen, is reported to have discovered on a palimpsest in the Convent of the Holy Grave at Constantinople a copy of some of the works of Archimedes supposed to have been transcribed by a monk in the tenth century. The Turkish authorities gave permission to have a copy made of the manuscript, and this will shortly be published. The discovery is of extraordinary interest as showing that ancient manuscripts do exist in Constantinople, supporting the contention of modern historians that the Turks did not destroy the contents of all the libraries, if indeed they destroyed any library, in Constantinople when Mohammed II. took the city in 1453.

UNROLLING PAPYRI FOR 120 YEARS.

IN June, 1750, excavations were begun in the west end of the garden of the "House of the Papyri," writes Ethel Ross Barker in the June Burlington Magazine in an article on "Past Excavations at Herculaneum." In the library were cases in inlaid wood containing lumps of charcoal, many of which were thrown away. Finally characters were noticed on some of them and they were discovered to be papyri. A monk, Father Piazzio, invented a machine for unrolling them, and for 120 years scholars were busy in the work of deciphering and editing. Some of the original rolls opened and unopened exist in the Bodleian Library and in the British Museum.

TO TEST RIGHT TO TRANSFER A SUBSCRIPTION TO BOOKS TO A SECOND PARTY.

ATTORNEY B. F. MADORE, of Bedford, Pa., has issued a foreign attachment against The American Law Book Company of New York City, to recover $115.82, the value of part of a set of the "Cyclopedia of Law and Procedure." This proceeding proposes to determine whether the American Law Book Company has the right to rescind a contract when it is only partially completed, the agreement giving neither party the right to rescind. It appears that some time ago Mr. Madore sold the volumes of "Cyclopedia of Law and Procedure" which he had already received, and the remainder of the books were to be shipped to the purchaser as fast as they were received from the American Law Book Company. Having learned of the sale of the books by Mr. Madore, the American Law Book Company refuses to send him any other volumes under the contract.

LAIRD & LEE'S GUIDES TO THE JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

LAIRD & LEE desire to notify the trade that they are free to sell and fill any orders for their guides to the Jamestown Exposition, etc., and that they are not infringing upon the rights of the Jamestown Official Photograph Corporation, or any other publisher or individual. The following letter will bear them out in this statement:

To all purchasers from the firm of Laird & Lee, and to all persons whom it may concern:

This is to certify that we have no claim or demands upon, nor suits pending against the firm of Laird & Lee, of Chicago, Ill., or William H. Lee personally, by reason of the publication of the books entitled "Glimpses of the Jamestown Exposition and Picturesque Virginia" and "Laird & Lee's Guide to Historic Virginia and the Jamestown Centennial," and that all dealers and others are at liberty to sell and purchase said books, free from any claims or demands on our part. Our copyrights on our pictures therein shown have been duly released, and they are not therefore affected by the injunction we have secured against the reproduction of our photographs without a proper release.

JAMESTOWN OFFICIAL PHOTOGRAPH CORP'N,
By JAMES MANN, President,

Laird & Lee have a very complete and artistic exhibit in Publishers' Row, Liberal Arts Building, at Jamestown, in charge of Miss Jennie A. Hansey, and they cordially invite all dealers visiting the Jamestown Exposition to call at their booth.

HOW FIVE AND TEN-CENT PUBLICATIONS PAY.

IN a suit brought by George Gordon Hastings, as temporary administrator of the estate of his wife, Rosalie Tousey Hastings, who died last December, for the inspection of the books and accounts of the publishing corporation known as Frank Tousey, at 24 Union Square, New York City, established by Frank Tousey some twenty years ago, Hastings claimed that since its incorporation the company has made not less than $100,000 a year in profits. Sinclair Tousey, the manager of the company, it is alleged as president of the corporation received a salary of $30,000 a year, and Mrs. Hastings as vice-president drew a like amount annually. Hastings also submitted to the court a statement showing that at the end of November, 1906, his wife's receipts from the publishing house had been $182,418. Mrs. Hastings is the widow of Frank Tousey, who died in 1902, leaving practically everything to his wife, the present Mrs. Hastings.

POPULAR FICTION IN ENGLAND DURING JUNE.

ACCORDING to the London Book Monthly the best-selling fiction in England, in June, were the following:

Three Weeks, by Mrs. Elinor Glyn Duckworth.

New Chronicles of Rebecca, by Kate Douglas Wiggin.

My Lord of Essex, by Mrs. Charles Brookfield.

The Tangled Skein, by Baroness Orczy.

The Burning Torch, by Miss Montresor.

Alice for Short, by William De Morgan.

OBITUARY NOTES.

GUSTAVE SCHIRMER, secretary of the music publishing firm of G. Schirmer and manager of the Boston branch of the business known as the Boston Music Company, died on July 15, in Boston. He was the second son of the founder of the firm, G. Schirmer, who came to this country as a boy and bought out the music house of Kerkeig & Breusing in 1866. His elder son, Rudolph E., became on his death the president of the company, and his younger son, Gustave, was made secretary.

THE REV. WILLIAM KIRKUS, for some years editor of the Baltimore American Literary Churchman, and author of works on "Orthodoxy, Scripture and Reason," "Religion, a Revelation and Rule of Life," etc., died on July 10, at Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Kirkus was born in Hull, Eng., in 1830, and after graduating from the University of London, became a Congregational minister. Later he went over to the Church of England, and coming to the United States became assistant to Bishop Potter, who was then rector of Grace Church in New York City. He went to Baltimore some years ago to build up the church of St. Michael and All Angels. In 1892 he resigned as rector to devote his time to literary work.

PROFESSOR ANGELO HEILPRIN, of Philadelphia, naturalist and explorer, died on July 17, at the home of his sister in New York City. Professor Heilprin was born March 31, 1853, at Sátoralja-Ujhely in Hungary, and came to this country when three years old. He took up the study of natural science, and gave his attention particularly to palaeontology and geology. His first academic appointment was as professor in these subjects at the Academy of Natural Science, Philadelphia, which he held from 1880 to 1900. In June, 1891, he headed a party of scientists, who accompanied Lieutenant Peary and his bride on their expedition to the ice fields of Greenland, and went as far north as latitude 77 degrees, 43 minutes, to the winter quarters of the explorer at McCormick Bay. Professor Heilprin's object was entirely scientific. Another of Professor Heilprin's expeditions, which proved his devotion to the call of science, was his ascent of Mount Pelée while it was still in eruption after the destruction of St. Pierre. He ascended the mountain until his life was in great danger. Streams of lava, cinders and clouds of steam were threatening to engulf him; but he completed the observations, which are recorded in his work, "Mount Pelée and the Tragedy of Martinique." He had already in 1890 investigated the volcanoes of Central America, and had made the ascent and taken measurements of Mounts Orizabo, Popocatepetl, Iltacituitl, Toluca and Jorullo. By this expedition he proved that Orizabo is the highest peak in Mexico and overtops Popocatepetl by 700 feet. Other parts of the globe he visited were Morocco and the Atlas Mountains in 1896, where he was disappointed at finding no traces of glaciers, and the Klondike and Alaska in 1898 and 1899. Besides the books mentioned Professor Heilprin wrote about a dozen others. He was a frequent contributor to scientific journals and to the magazines.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

THE announcement is made that Sir A. Conan Doyle and Miss Jean Leckie are to be married.

CHARLES RATHBONE LOW, the English historian, is heading a movement to erect a monument to Byron in Westminster Abbey.

S. M. ELLIS is at work on a biography of Harrison Ainsworth. He will be glad if any one possessing letters or other material relative to the subject will communicate with him at Hill House, Southwold, Suffolk, Eng.

THE Italian Minister of Public Instruction has offered to Ouida, (Louise de la Ramé,) any acceptable help. She, however, is not willing to accept charity and has already returned the donations of English sympathizers.

RODIN's bust of the late William Ernest Henley, author and editor, who died four years ago this month, was unveiled in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, on July 11. A striking eulogy by George Meredith was read by Lord Plymouth.

PERSONAL NOTES.

WILLIAM THOMSON and William T. Pitt, of the Thomson-Pitt Book Co., of New York City, sailed for Europe on the 13th inst., to select rare and curious books for their Fall and Winter trade.

E. HERRICK BROWN, for five years manager of the Congregational Bookstore in Chicago and ten years with the Boston headquarters of the same concern, has taken charge of the newly organized Book Rooms of the Board of the Hawaiian Evangelical Association, at Honolulu, T. H., in their new building at the corner of Merchant and Alakea Streets.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

The Knickerbocker Magazine is the title of a new periodical published in New York City for the theatrical profession. Henry H. Creske is the managing editor and business manager.

A JAPANESE illustrated monthly, the Atlantic Monthly Magazine, has been started in New York City by Hokata Asai, who acts as editor, and H. H. Asai, who is the publisher. A few pages are to be devoted to articles in English by Japanese. The illustrations are either from photographs or show a curious blending of oriental and occidental ideas about art.

POST-CARD NOTES.

THE United States Board of General Appraisers has decided that post-cards manufactured abroad on which feathers have been used for ornate purposes, must pay a duty of 50 per cent. ad valorem as a manufacture of feathers, rather than printed matter.

THE AMERICAN NEWS COMPANY has marketed a line of "Birthday" post-cards. The subjects are assorted flowers, children, landscapes and marine views. They all have delicately tinted backgrounds with edges of a contrasting color which give a very artistic effect. A trial order of 100 assorted cards is $1.25.

WITH reference to the probable continuance of the post-card craze, A. S. Merrill, one of the largest dealers in post-cards in Toronto, Canada, recently said to a representative of the Bookseller and Stationer of Canada: "I should hardly call it any longer a craze. Picture post-cards are now a staple commodity. Before forming this opinion, which I feel sure is a correct one, I travelled ten thousand miles visiting cities in the United States, in 1905 and 1906, and I covered about as many miles in Europe. In Paris, Berlin and London particularly, I observed that the picture post-card was firmly established; and on the main streets of those cities, about every tenth store carried post-cards, while some firms have been for a long time, and are now, selling nothing but post-cards. I feel sure that so long as pictures are sold at all, they will sell best in the form of picture post-cards."

POSTMASTER-GENERAL MEYER has promulgated an order, effective August 1, 1907, providing that the face side of a postal card may be divided by a vertical line placed approximately one-third of the distance from the left end of the card; the space to the left of the line to be used for a message, etc., the portion to the right to be used for the address only. A very thin sheet of paper may be attached if it completely adheres to the card, and such a paster may bear both writing and printing. Advertisements, illustrations or writing may appear on the back of the card and on the left third of the front. Postal cards bearing particles of glass, metal, mica, sand, tinsel, or other such substances, are declared to be unmailable, except when enclosed in envelopes with proper postage affixed, or when treated in such a manner as will prevent the objectionable materials from being rubbed off or injuring the hands of persons handling the mails.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ALMA, KAN.—Louis Palenske, bookseller, has been succeeded by Joseph Treu.

BELFAST, ME.—Marlboro P. Woodcock has recently bought the brick store on Main Street, in which he has carried on a book-selling business thirty-six years, and which has been in continuous use in that line seventy-four years.

CHICAGO, ILL.—The H. H. Waldo Book and Stationery Company has been incorporated in Chicago to do a general book, stationery and office supply business, by H. H. Waldo, B. R. Waldo and J. W. Kendall.

GARNETT, KAN.—Charles McCrum, Jr., bookseller, is selling out.

MACON, GA.—Brown-Burr, booksellers, have sold out to Brown's Book Store, G. P. Fuller, proprietor.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Norman W. Henley Publishing Co., 132 Nassau Street, has purchased the stock of the Derry-Collard Co. from the receiver, with all the rights and interests in the business, and can fill all orders for their publications.

OSWEGO, KAN.—F. M. Daniels & Co., booksellers, announce that they will go out of business.

PARIS, TEX.—Bedford and Alexander have succeeded to the book business of Bedford and Crook.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y.—The A. M. Warren Company has succeeded to the book business of A. M. Warren.

PLEASANTON, KAN.—Bruce Evans has purchased the book business of E. E. Cross.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.—The Holden Patent Book Cover Company has removed its offices from 231 Main Street, where it has been located for the past fifteen years, to the Germania Building, 53 Hillman Street. The new quarters of the company consist of five large rooms on the fourth floor.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.—The Phelps Publishing Company are at work on a new building to take the place of the one at Worthington and Water Streets destroyed by fire about five months ago. The new building is to be eight stories high, 283 feet long and 105 feet wide, giving them nearly 30,000 square feet of floor space. The Phelps Company will occupy the entire building.

SUPERIOR, NEB.—Kendali Drug Co., dealers in drugs, books, etc., have been succeeded by A. V. Brown.

WELLSVILLE, N. Y.—Ellis P. Goedecke, of the City Book Store, has sold his interest to Fayette L. Scoville and W. E. Browning, who will continue it under the same name.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE CENTURY COMPANY will publish in book form this fall David Homer Bates's memories of "Lincoln in the Telegraph Office." Mr. Bates was manager of the War Department Telegraph Office and cipher-operator from 1861 to 1866.

THROUGH the printer's error the price of Bradford's "Bibliographer's Manual of American History" was given incorrectly as $3 the volume in the advertisement of Stan V. Henkels & Co., in the issue of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY for July 13. The trade is requested to note that the price is $3.50 net the volume, and that subscriptions will be taken only for the full set of five volumes.

WE are pleased to notice that the recent birthday honors include a baronetcy for Walter Scott, of the Walter Scott Publishing Company, which has done much to popularize good books; and knighthoods for Principal Donaldson, of St. Andrews, W. S. Gilbert, Professor J. K. Laughton, and Professor John Rhys, who have all in different ways made notable contributions to scholarship or letters.

THE MOODY CORPORATION, 35 Nassau Street, New York City, have just issued a work of interest to the banking and investing community, entitled "American Railways as Investments," by Carl Snyder. It presents an exhaustive analysis of nearly one hundred of the leading companies of the United States and Canada, reviewing their history, capitalization, character and stability of traffic, standard of maintenance, surplus earnings, etc.

W. A. BUTTERFIELD, 59 Bromfield Street, Boston, Mass., has published a facsimile of the scarce Pelham Map of Boston and Environs, of the original of which only seven copies are known. The map shows the exact position of the British and American troops, Washington's headquarters at Cambridge and General Putnam's line of communications as well as the road that Earl Percy's troops took to Lexington. Paul Revere's ride is distinctly outlined as far as Medford; also, Colonel Dawes' ride through Roxbury and Brookline. The position of the houses of prominent people of that time are also indicated.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY will publish in the fall F. Marion Crawford's new story, "Arethusa," the scene of which is laid in Constantinople and Venice in the fifteenth century; "Love of Life," a collection of short stories by Jack London; "The Gulf," a new novel by John Luther Long, author of "The Way of the Gods," etc.; the first English edition of Alexandre Dumas's autobiography—"My Memoirs"—prepared from the autograph manuscripts of the author by E. M. Waller; New Creations in Plant Life, by W. S. Harwood, author of "The New Earth;" also, "Tales of the Months," a series of thirteen short stories, the number corresponding with the thirteen months of the Indian calendar, by Mabel Osgood Wright.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY have in preparation a work on the present conditions in South America, entitled "The Continent of Opportunity." The author, Francis E. Clark, widely known as the founder and president of the Christian Endeavor Society, has just completed a thorough-going tour of examination of the political, economic and religious conditions of the continent. He gives a brief history of eleven separate republics so different that they cannot be treated as a whole, and impressions gained from audiences with the presidents of most of them. They also announce a book entitled "Poland, the Knight Among Nations," by Louis E. Van Norman, staff editor of The American Review of Reviews. With description, legend and history and a traveller's impressions, the author has prepared a book of unusual interest and information. The introduction is by Helena Modjeska, the well-known actress.

FOR the next two weeks there will be exhibited at Tiffany's, in New York City, one of the handsomest volumes ever made in the United States. It is volume one of "The Catholic Encyclopedia," Vatican edition, the copy which is to be presented to His Holiness Pius x., and is a splendid example of American bookmaking and binding. It is one of the limited edition of twenty-six sets, lettered according to the alphabet. The text is printed throughout upon Imperial Japan paper, manufactured especially for this work; the illustrations consist of 30 photogravures in color of paintings and manuscripts; 100 photogravures in tint on India paper, and 45 color typogravures all printed by Goupil & Company, of Paris, together with 2000 full-page and text illustrations. Each copy of this edition bears the autograph of the Pope on the title-page. In the set to be presented to His Holiness will appear the names of all of the subscribers to the Vatican edition. The binding is a work of art in itself, being elaborated in full vellum, with a special design stamped in gold and inlaid with morocco in various colors. A photogravure in color is inlaid on the doublé of the front cover. A different picture will consequently appear on the doublé of each of the 15 volumes. The fly-leaf is of watered silk, while the Papal coat-of-arms is hand-painted on the half-title. The half title and full title in each volume is hand illuminated in color. The work is to be completed in fifteen volumes, and it is stated that no publisher has ever issued a work of reference in a garb so distinctive. The publishers are Robert Appleton Company, New York.

THE SAALFIELD PUBLISHING COMPANY'S announcements for the fall include the following books for boys: "Little Rhody," by Jean K. Bird, describing a year at a boy's school; "Bigelow Boys," by Mrs. A. F. Ransom, giving the adventures of three boys who proved themselves heroes in a street car strike; also, "The Traff of the Seneca," by James Braden, the story of the adventures of two sturdy lads who brave the dangers of the wilderness to make their fortunes. For girls they have "Betty, the Scribe," by Lilian Turner; "The Honor Girl," and "Elizabeth Hobart at Exeter Hall," both by Jean K. Baird. All these books will be fully illustrated. Among their other juveniles are "In Shadow Town," by Leigh Gross Day, a lap-book of verse, with illustrations from photographs; "The Teddy Bears," by Adah Louise Sutton, with illustrations in color; "Billy Whisker's Travels," by F. G. Wheeler, with illustrations in color; "Baby Dear," a record book for baby's first year, compiled by Adah Louise Sutton, with illustrations and decorations by Katherine Hayward Greenland; "The Little Green Goblin," by James Ball Naylor, a wonder-tale for discontented boys and girls, with illustrations in color; also, "Kindergarten Gems," a collection of short stories and poems for children just learning to read. Two comics announced by this firm are "The Newlyweds and Their Baby," by George McManus, thirty-two pages in color, full of fun, and "The Outbursts of Everett True," by A. D. Condo and J. W. Raper. Their "novelties" are "A Visit to the Zoo" and "Hello, Hello, Bostock," lap-books in which the illustrations can be extended and the animals made to perform wonderful feats; also, "The Little Runaways, Topsy and Tootsy," jingling verses and bright pictures.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print of five nonpareil lines, exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small undisplayed advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their Communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

1st In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash.]

2d Write your wants plainly, and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly," does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," book-sellers should take the usual precautions, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

BUSY BOOKSELLERS, Attention!

Your best help toward that happy, "busy" condition is now ready, and you can have sample copy and full particulars on request—a sixty-eight large-page, large-type Bulletin of "Best-selling Current Literature," the latest issues and most popular books of leading publishers—3630 catalogue lines, an up-to-date, "live" book store in itself.

This Bulletin is going to be mailed to your customers.

It will go with your imprint, or with the imprint of some other book dealer—whichever you choose to say—if you will kindly say quickly!

With your own exclusive imprint, the cost to you will be only half-a-cent a copy—a small fraction of the real cost—the publishers pay the balance.

To any local bookseller who will thoroughly cover a given territory, exclusive use of the Bulletin will be given—prompt recognition and consideration of the matter is therefore of special importance: the live bookseller, rather than the one with the "deep pocket" is the one we are looking for.

The cost of mailing is one cent each (a full cent's worth), or $10.00 per 1,000, or a total cost to you of $15.00 per 1,000.

Or, if you prefer to do so, you can send us the names of your customers, and we will mail direct, with your exclusive imprint (nothing else will go) and pay half the postage, making the net cost to you only $10.00, instead of $15.00, per 1,000; the publishers will pay the balance of the expense.

You can either send your orders direct to us, or through any New York City publisher, who will thus practically, guarantee our good faith and the performance of what we agree to do.

Our plans are altogether unique, and most important in the interest of the Publisher, the Bookseller and the Book Buyer—not a whit in collision with either interest.

Note that publishers pay the greater portion of the expense of circulating the Bulletin, and evidently they are greatly interested to eliminate duplication and waste. Both these ends are facilitated by "exclusive" local editions and by the direct mailing from N. Y. City, our nation-wide Book Buyer's directory making possible the checking of names, and throwing out of duplicates, or of those "not-worth-while."

You should certainly put a copy of the Bulletin with your imprint on it into the hands of every customer—or every possible customer, you have—as soon as possible; after doing that you will send subsequent issues in less quantity; according to circumstances and the merits of each case.

It is not supposed that you will want Bulletins in big quantities before September or October, but it is quite essential, for you, and for us, that we get to an understanding with you, as promptly as possible.

Address, and "talk business," definitely as practicable.

PUBLISHERS BOOK BULLETIN

47 FOURTH AVE., ROOM 84

NEW YORK CITY

THE LONE STAR

By EUGENE P. LYLE, JR.

Author of "The Missourian"

Will be for sale throughout the country—August 15th

It is a high class tale of romantic adventure. It stirs the blood irresistibly, this dramatic story; and the reader understands for the first time what kind of men Houston and Crockett and Bowie and their companions really were, and what the Alamo tragedy meant.

It is an epic of the Southwest—the Iliad of Texas—which will appeal strongly to every American.

Four colored illustrations by PHILIP R. GOODWIN.

Vol. I contains a five-year cumulation, Jan. 1, 1900-Jan. 1, 1905, giving in one alphabet, by author, title and subject, information of the books issued during the years covered by this period. It also contains a directory of over 3800 publishers, with street addresses. 8vo, half morocco, $7.50.

Vol. II or Supplementary volume gives the full-title entries with annotations printed in the Weekly Record of The Publishers' Weekly, cumulated into an alphabet for each year, i.e., into five alphabets 1900, 01, 02, 03, 04. This is planned to answer the demand of such libraries, bookdealers, and others as want the full material of The Publishers' Weekly bibliographical system in available shape. 8vo, half morocco, $7.50. The set of two, $15.00.

Of the previous series of THE AMERICAN CATALOGUE, quarto size, the earlier volumes are out of print. We have remaining a few copies of the volumes 1890-95 and 1895-1900, bound in half morocco, $15.00 each.

The Annual American Catalog

Contains in one alphabet a record of all books published during 1905, under author, title, subject and series entries; also under author's name an alphabetical list of the same titles with descriptive annotations from The Publishers' Weekly, etc. 8vo, cloth, $3.00.

Same catalog for 1906, $3.00.

The Publishers' Trade List Annual

Contains the latest catalogues of upward of 200 American publishers, contributed by themselves and arranged alphabetically by the firm-names, with smaller lists, fully indexed, at the end of the volume. Indispensable to every one who has any interest in the sale or purchase of books. Large 8vo, cloth, $2.00.

Index to the Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1902, out of print.

The Supplementary Index, 1903-1904, 500 pages, 8vo, cloth, with thumb index, $3.00. The alphabet in this volume is supplementary to the original Index of 1902.

The American Educational List

Contains a price-list of the text-books in use in the United States, arranged alphabetically by author's or editor's name, and a detailed subject-index, referring from each specific subject to authors of books on that subject. (Published annually.) 8vo, leatherette, 50 cents.

Whitaker's Reference Catalogue of Current Literature, 1906. (London, J. Whitaker & Sons.)

(The trade price-lists of all the British publishers.) 2 vols., half leather binding, $5.00.

The Library Journal

Official Organ of the American Library Association. Chiefly devoted to library economy and bibliography. Established in 1876. Published monthly. Subscription $4.00 a year, postpaid; single numbers, 35 cents. Price to Europe or other countries in the Union, 16s. a year; single numbers, 1s. 6d.

The Library Index to Periodicals and Current Events

Published monthly, with a quarterly cumulation (indexing the periodicals taken in most libraries, large and small). Subscription, $3.00 per year. Single monthly numbers, 25 cents; quarterly numbers, 50 cents each.

The Annual Library Index

Including Periodicals, American and English; Essays, Book-Chapters, etc., Bibliographies, Necrology and Index to Dates of Principal Events. Edited, with the co-operation of members of the American Library Association and of The Library Journal staff, by W. I. FLETCHER and H. E. HAINES. (Published annually) 8vo, cloth, $3.50.

English Catalogue of Books (Annual)

Containing a complete list of all the books published in Great Britain and Ireland in the calendar year, with index to subjects. 8vo, cloth, $1.50.

English Catalogue of Books, 1901-1905

The record of these five years in one continuous alphabet. (Seventh volume of series.) 8vo, half morocco, $20.00.

Directory of Publishers

Contains names and addresses of 3876 firms and individuals who issued books in the U. S. from Jan. 1, 1900 to Jan. 1, 1905. (Reprinted from The American Catalog.) 8vo, leatherette, red edges, $1.00.

The Profession of Bookselling

A handbook of practical hints for the apprentice and bookseller. By A. GROWOLL, managing editor of The Publishers' Weekly, author of "A Bookseller's Library," "Three Centuries of English Booktrade Bibliography," etc. Parts 1 and 2. 8vo boards, each $2.00. (Concluding part in preparation.)

Publications of Societies

A provisional list of the publications of American scientific, literary and other societies, from their organization. Compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. BOWKER. Schedules nearly 1,000 societies issuing publications, and gives title-entries of all their publications, as far as data could be obtained from the societies and from libraries. 8vo, paper, $2.50.

State Publications

A provisional list of the official publications of the several States of the United States from their organization. Compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. BOWKER. Part 1: New England States. Part 2: North Central States. Part 3: Western States and Territories. Part 4, (in preparation) Southern States. (For the complete work $10.)

A Small Outlay With Large Possibilities

Promote Your School Book Business

Booksellers can add to the volume of their business materially by developing carefully the sale of school books in their territory. While the margin of profit appears to be small it must be kept in mind that many schools, especially private schools, colleges and universities, order in quantities; the sale-season, though short, is "snappy" and there is a minimum of danger only in accumulating "dead" stock. When you make a customer for school books, be he the school principal or the pupil, you have a customer for other supplies as well and very often you form business friendships with "book-lovers" of the future.

To aid the bookseller in this branch of his business, we publish yearly an up-to-date "Educational List" containing the titles of current school books and their prices, together with a classified index of subjects. This catalogue we supply at a very low rate in quantities with the dealer's own imprint on front page—cheap enough to warrant any bookseller distributing it freely among all the educational institutions in his territory.

TERMS FOR IMPRINT EDITIONS

100 Copies $5.00 500 Copies $22.50 1000 Copies $40.00

 Can we interest you? If not familiar with the "Educational List" write for a sample copy.

The Negro in the South

HIS ECONOMIC PROGRESS IN RELATION TO HIS MORAL AND RELIGIOUS DEVELOPMENT

BY

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON,
of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute

AND

of the Atlanta University

12mo, Cloth, $1.00 Net

AN intensely interesting series of talks upon a vital subject by men so well known in their respective fields of work as to need no further endorsement of their qualification. It begins with a discussion of the negro as he was in slavery, gradually leading up to a presentation of his situation to-day with all its questions and perplexing problems.

"The book will interest all who are concerned in the social and economic problems that are pressing for solution."—Buffalo Express.

"The book cites numerous instances of success due to economic and industrial training, and vigorously defends the negro of the South from the railing accusations of the prejudiced white men. It is a strong case excellently presented."—Phila. North American.
